OCEAN, BAR,
BAY, DOCK AND RIVER

Additional word was received from Peter Johns, the master of the launch Rose, at Tillamook, yesterday, telling of the beaching of the little craft on the ocean sands just above the life-saving station at Tillamook. She went on shore in the gale of Sunday last, and the breakers drove her high and dry and smashed every pane of glass in her housing, and injuring her upperwork pretty badly; the Tillamook life savers went to her at once and stood by. Later they got a line and kedged to her and finally succeeded in hauling her off and clear and got her into Tillamook Bay, where she is now mending up and preparing to continue her voyage, to Newport.

The handsome flagship of the light house tender fleet of this district, the Armeria, Captain Wm. E. Gregory, commanding, arrived in port yesterday noon, from Puget Sound, where she has been cruising for the past month. All hands were well and glad to get back into home waters.

The Nicomedia made her customary trip down the bay yesterday morning in the hope of crossing out for China and Japan, but found things too bad on the bar for her to risk the trip; so she came back to her city anchorage, and will try it again this morning.

The steamer Lurline was right on her schedule last evening, with plenty of business both ways and on both decks. She took away the following people when she left up: P. L. Lathrop, M. B. Thompson, G. Fleckenstein, Mrs. B. N. Stockman, J. G. Nosk, and W. H. Bell.

Captain Simon received a card from his friend, the master of the British ship Samantha, now lying at Quartersmaster's Harbor, Tacoma, announcing the fact that he is fixed to load out timbers for the United Kingdom, at a figure not yet known.

The steamer Sue H. Elmore arrived in from Tillamook Bay yesterday afternoon, with plenty of business. Her fleet fellows, the Evie and Gerald C., will try and get out for Tillamook this morning.

Captain Simmons, of the Donna Francisco, reports that his motor did not work and he is about ready to forego its use, and resume the safer motors of oar and sail, which he knows how to employ, while he is dubious of the finicky motor.

The British steamship Foreric, from Puget Sound, arrived in this port yesterday, and went direct to

The steamship Rose City arrived down at midnight last night, and left down almost immediately, to cross out for San Francisco, but whether she got over the bar, is not known at the hour of going to press.

The fine oil tank steamship Atlas, with barge in tow, arrived in from the California coast yesterday noon, and went on to the metropolis without delay in this port.

The steamer Eureka came in from the California port of that name yesterday noon, and stayed a short time at the Callender dock, before proceeding on to Portland.

The French bark Vincennes was among the craft to make it to sea yesterday, and will be followed this morning by the Norwegian ship Dahgill.

NAME MEANS SOMETHING.
When A. E. Petersen built and named the "Modern" barber shop, he meant that it should stand for what it was called. No patron has missed a single feature of the modern torsorial parlor at that house; and every new device in the way of perfect comb and service is constantly added as it develops. The latest is an expert bootblack, the best in the business; a qualification that makes his employment really modern.

The Palace Restaurant.
Any phase of hunger can be daily gratified at any hour of the day or night at the Palace Restaurant. The kitchen and dining room service are of the positive best. Private dining rooms for ladies. One call inspires regular custom. Try it. Commercial street, opposite Page building.

The very best board to be obtained in the city is at "The Occident Hotel." Rates very reasonable.

The Clean Man.
The man who delights in personal cleanliness, and enjoys his shave, shampoo, haircut, and bath, in Astoria, always goes to the Occident barber shop for these things—and gets them at their best.

FISH WARDEN MCALLISTER SUBMITS REPORT

TOUCHES ON SUITS IN INJUNCTION, HATCHERIES AND OFFICE ACCOUNTS

Fish Warden H. C. McAllister has filed his October report with the Fisheries Commission of the State of Oregon. After presenting the present status of the injunction cases now pending as between the States of Washington and Oregon, with which the people on both banks of the Columbia are more or less familiar, the Master Fish Warden touches the hatchery matters as at present constituted and submits his accounts to date, as follows:

During the month, in company with Hon. F. W. Benson, Secretary of State, and ex-officio member of the Board of Fish Commissioners, I visited the Ontario and Wallowa Hatcheries. We also visited Boise, Idaho, where we were very cordially received by Chief Deputy Fish and Game Warden B. L. Livingston, of Idaho, from whom we secured some very valuable ideas and suggestions relative to screens that Idaho is using in all irrigation ditches with marked success. At the Ontario Hatchery, we found the men busily engaged in taking spawn, and from the racks, roughly estimated, at 20 tons, Superintendent Berrian claimed our egg take would be at least 10,000,000. Later reports show that 75 per cent of the fish were males, and although they are still fishing, to date having secured 3,185,000 eggs, I am afraid that the take will not exceed 5,000,000.

At Wallowa, Superintendent Thorn has finished fishing for Chinooks. Secured 1,272,000. Silversides are now showing up at this station, and when ripe their spawn will be secured.

The new Hatchery building on the Trask river has been completed and accepted. Construction of building cost $1892.

For years, the dams on Rogue river at Grant's Pass and Gold Ray have been a great source of trouble to the citizens of Southern Oregon. I am satisfied that a number of Grant's Pass fishermen have for years made the Grant's Pass and Ament dams a means whereby they could secure salmon with very little effort, in direct violation of our fishing laws, which prohibits fishing of any kind within 600 feet of any dam. I am reliably informed that some of these fishermen have been known to operate their gear night after night, directly under the dams, securing tons of salmon, which had been allowed to ascend the river to their natural spawning beds, would have resulted in Rogue River being today well stocked with fish instead of being nearly depleted as at the present time. In the past, a very bitter feeling existed in Grant's Pass, and it was absolutely impossible for the authorities to secure a conviction against the fishermen found violating the fishing laws, but I am pleased to report that conditions are now more favorable and the citizens more than willing to lend their aid in protecting the industry. After visiting the above mentioned dams, and suggesting a few improvements in the fishways, which I was assured would be made, I promised the delegation that, if necessary, I would put extra deputies on the river during the fishing season to protect the salmon.

The receipts of the office during the month have been as per the following:

District No. 1
October 17—Received from the sale of an old secondhand cook-stove used at the Ontario Salmon Hatchery, and sold to Trenton Johnson of Ontario, Oregon, for the sum of $5.
Account of Licenses Issued

AMUSEMENTS

CORBETT TOMORROW.
Noted Puglist Will be Seen in "Facing the Music" Sunday Night.

Miss Montell, who will appear at the Astoria Theatre in support of Jas. J. Corbett, is a young actress who comes by her talent naturally, for she is the daughter of Eugenie Blair and Forrest Robinson, both players of natural histrionic prominence. Miss Blair has for many years been a leading star, and has appeared here often in prominent parts in popular and successful plays. This season she is winning new laurels in another of Blanche Walsh's plays, "The Straight Road." Miss Montell's father, Mr. Robinson, has also had a distinguished career, and has long been known as one of the best and most prominent leading men in the country. For several years he was leading man in the country. For several years he was leading man for Mrs. Fiske. He was the first David in "Way Down East"; created the leading part in "Sar Harbor"; supported Lawrence D'O'Connell in "The Embassy Ball"; was associated with Ethel Barrymore in "The Silver Box"; appeared in the original production at Terry's Theatre in London of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," playing Mr. Wiggs. For several years he has been under the management of Chas. Frohman, and is this season appearing in Mr. Frohman's production of "The Mollusc," which opened at the Garrick in New York August 31st.

Miss Montell, the daughter of such parents, surely should have a great measure of natural talent, and when this endowment is enhanced by personal beauty by decided gracefulness, and an attractive and charming personality, then truly within her grasp is placed many of the essential elements of stage successes, and the fact should necessarily hold for her a stage prestige of no mean merit.

Miss Montell's stage career began in her mother's company. She has appeared here on several occasions, her last local engagement being in support of David Higgins in the well known racing play, "His Last Dollar," in which she assumed the role of Eleanor Downs, the Kentucky Girl, with signal success. She has also won distinctive favor in stock, and only last summer was one of the most popular members of the Neill Stock Company at the Grand opera house, St. Paul. She has also appeared with leading stock organizations in Los Angeles, San Diego, Cleveland, Detroit and Milwaukee, assuming a wide range of parts with distinct credit to her understanding of character analysis and her method of dramatic portrayal. Blanch Bates, who opened in a new play of David Belasco's in Washington, D. C., September 7th is a cousin of Miss Montell.

A SURGICAL OPERATION

If there is any one thing that a woman dreads more than another it is a surgical operation. We can state without fear of a contradiction that there are hundreds, yes, thousands, of operations performed upon women in our hospitals which are entirely unnecessary and many have been avoided by

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

For proof of this statement read the following letters.
Mrs. Barbara Base, of Kingman, Kansas, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "For eight years I suffered from the most severe form of female troubles, and was told that an operation was my only hope of recovery. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has saved my life and made me a well woman."

Mrs. Arthur K. House, of Church Road, Moorestown, N. J., writes: "I feel it is my duty to let people know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female troubles, and last March my physician decided that an operation was necessary. My husband objected, and urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to-day I am well and strong."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, and backache.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.
